(3) Reasons for revisions

<Non-consolidated financial results forecast>

Operating profit is expected to exceed the previous forecast due to a decrease in general and administrative expenses, partly due to the reversal of allowance for doubtful accounts recorded in the prior periods, in addition to an increase in gross profit mainly related to return to profitability in construction work. In addition, ordinary profit and profit are expected to exceed the previous forecast, respectively, due to improved non-operating income and expenses as a result of lower financial expenses and foreign exchange losses.

<Consolidated financial results forecast>

Net sales and each profit are expected to exceed the previous forecast partly due to increased net sales, particularly in overseas subsidiaries, and improved gross profit, in addition to the revisions to the non-consolidated financial results forecast.

(Note) The above forecasts are estimates based on information currently available at the time of announcement, and actual results, etc., may vary due to a variety of factors.
