Digital Transformation Certification

Overview of DX Certification System and Calbee's DX Initiatives

The DX Certification System is a program established by the government to certify companies that comply with the fundamental principles of the Digital Governance Code based on the Act on the Promotion of Information Processing.

Guided by its corporate philosophy, Calbee aims to become a company that continues to grow for over 100 years since its founding. To achieve this, Calbee is using digital technologies and IT to drive transformation across its group of companies. In October 2025, it formulated the "Calbee Group DX Roadmap*," under which it has been advancing specific initiatives. This certification reflects Calbee's efforts to align its activities with the Digital Governance Code and the Three Perspectives and Five Pillars Required for DX Management.

With this certification, the Calbee Group will further strengthen its IT infrastructure and talent development initiatives to create value that transcends companies and industries, paving the way for future growth.
