(Change in Disclosed Matter) Notice Regarding Business Alliance with HIKARI TSUSHIN, INC. (Partnership for Joint Rollout of Battery Storage Business and Construction of an Energy Platform)

Remixpoint, inc. (the "Company") hereby announces that it had been engaged in discussions with HIKARI TSUSHIN, INC. (hereinafter "HIKARI TSUSHIN"). As previously disclosed in the "Notice Regarding Execution of Basic Agreement for Capital and Business Alliance with HIKARI TSUSHIN, INC." dated August 14, 2026, these discussions pertained to a business alliance regarding both customer and grid-scale battery storage businesses (high- and low-voltage), as well as a capital alliance (issuance of share acquisition rights).

At the Board of Directors meeting held on August 27, 2026, the Company resolved to formally enter into a business alliance (hereinafter the "Business Alliance") with HIKARI TSUSHIN. The details are as follows.

Regarding the capital alliance (issuance of share acquisition rights) discussed under the basic agreement, the Company carefully considered the impact on the equity value of existing shareholders. As a result, the Company confirmed that the content and execution policy of the Business Alliance can be maintained and implemented without the need to issue share acquisition rights. Consequently, the Company has decided not to implement the capital alliance (issuance of share acquisition rights). Accordingly, while the Business Alliance with HIKARI TSUSHIN will proceed as planned, there will be no dilution of shares resulting from the issuance of new shares associated with this alliance.

1. Reason for the business alliance

Through the restructuring of its business portfolio, the Company Group is optimizing the allocation of management resources and improving capital efficiency. As part of this strategy, the Company is strongly focusing on the battery storage business as a key growth area. To put the battery storage business on a sustainable growth trajectory, it is essential to evolve into an "energy platform" that creates continuous recurring revenue through post-installation EMS control and market operations, rather than merely selling equipment.

Meanwhile, the HIKARI TSUSHIN Group possesses a robust corporate customer network of 1.3 million companies nationwide and financing support functions that back business expansion.

The primary objective of the Business Alliance is to combine the Company's accumulated knowledge and operational know-how regarding battery storage and electricity markets with the HIKARI TSUSHIN Group's management resources, such as its customer base, sales capabilities, and financing support functions. Through this, the Company aims to scale up battery storage projects while curbing its standalone financial burden, accelerating the construction of a nationwide energy platform.

2. Details of the business alliance

Under the Business Alliance, the two companies will collaborate in the following areas to build an end-to-end one-stop service for the battery storage business:

(1) Joint rollout of high-voltage and low-voltage customer battery storage and grid-scale battery storage

Utilizing the HIKARI TSUSHIN Group's nationwide corporate customer network, the companies will promote the sale and installation of battery storage across all high-voltage and low-voltage sectors. Particularly for grid-scale battery storage, the companies will pursue the realization of development projects and the expansion of business scale, with an eye toward joint ownership.

(2) Accelerating business expansion utilizing financing support functions

By utilizing the HIKARI TSUSHIN Group's financing functions, the Company will alleviate its financial burden associated with large-scale projects and the installation of numerous facilities, enabling swift project origination.

(3) Maximizing operational revenue and promoting the platform business

For the installed battery storage systems, the Company will apply its EMS and O&M functions, as well as market optimization know-how. Through this, the companies aim to expand continuous recurring revenue from aggregation and market operations, in addition to flow-type revenue from equipment sales. In the future, the companies will promote a next-generation energy platform business that manages distributed energy resources in an integrated manner through VPPs, supply and demand adjustment markets, and other mechanisms.

(2) Execution date of the Business Alliance agreement	August 28, 2026
(3) Commencement date of the Business Alliance	August 28, 2026

5. Future outlook

Through the Business Alliance, the Company Group will establish an end-to-end value chain from project development to operation in the battery storage business, actively advancing the construction of an energy platform. By collaborating with the HIKARI TSUSHIN Group, the Company can expand its business scale in growth areas while reducing its own financial burden and enhancing capital efficiency. Furthermore, by structuring this as a business alliance without a capital alliance, the Company aims to realize business synergies utilizing the management resources of both companies while safeguarding existing shareholder value.

The impact of this Business Alliance on the consolidated financial results for the fiscal year ending March 31, 2027, is expected to be minor. Over the medium to long term, however, the rapid expansion of operational facilities and the accumulation of aggregation revenue will establish a robust recurring revenue base, continuously enhancing the Company Group's corporate value.

If any matters require disclosure in the future, the Company will promptly disclose them as soon as the details are finalized.
