Notice Regarding Acquisition of Noncurrent Assets

MEC COMPANY LTD. (“the Company”) hereby announces that, at a meeting of the Board of Directors held today, it resolved to commence procedures for the acquisition of noncurrent assets. Details are as follows.

1. Reason for the acquisition

In recent years, against the backdrop of rapid progress in generative AI, demand for electronic substrates and components has been expanding. The Company supplies chemicals used in the manufacturing process for electronic substrates and components, and has a particularly high market share in the manufacturing process for package substrates on which semiconductors are mounted. As various AI-related advancements are expected to continue in the future, the Company is working to further strengthen its supply structure throughout the Group to take advantage of the opportunities for sustainable growth stemming from the expanding demand.

The Company’s Nagaoka Factory, a mass-production factory in Japan, will mark 40 years of operation in 2033, and is expected to undergo major upgrades. With this in mind, the Company has been considering the acquisition of land near the Nagaoka Factory, and has decided to proceed with the acquisition process after receiving information regarding sale of the adjacent land. The Company believes that the acquisition of this land will expand its options for renovation of the current factory.
