3. Reason for revisions to consolidated financial results forecasts

Compared with our previous announcement on May 12, 2026, we have revised upward our performance forecasts for both the second quarter (interim period) ending September 30, 2026, and the full-year period ending March 31, 2027.
Specifically, we expect consolidated net sales and operating profit to exceed our previous forecasts. In the Metals segment, we expect sales and operating profit to exceed our previous forecasts, primarily due to price differentials resulting from a rise in copper prices during the first quarter ended June 30, 2026. In the Electronics and Chemicals segments, as well as the Real Estate business, we expect sales and operating profit to exceed our previous forecasts.
Furthermore, as announced in "Notice Concerning Completion of Transfer of Non-current Assets by Consolidated Subsidiary and Recording of Extraordinary Profit (Gain on Sales of Non-current Assets)," released on August 12, 2026, we have completed the transfer of the former smelter site in Australia owned by PKC Properties Pty. Ltd. Accordingly, the Company expects to post a gain on sales of non-current assets of approximately ¥6.0 billion, reported as extraordinary income. In addition, we expect to post a gain on sales of investment securities resulting from the partial sale of strategic shareholdings. Accordingly, profit attributable to owners of parent is also expected to substantially exceed our previous forecast.
