Impact on UACJ Group

Green: Positive impact
Yellow: Negative impact

Area	Major impact on UACJ Group
1 Direct impact
Can stock	<ul style="list-style-type: none">Do not expect any significant change in sales volume for contracts concluded in 2025From 2026 onwards, additional tariffs and the abolishment of the exclusion system may lead to lower sales from Thailand
Automotive-related materials	<ul style="list-style-type: none">In response to closure of competing factories within the U.S., export sales of automotive materials from Japan and Thailand may increase
2 Indirect impact
Automotive-related materials	<ul style="list-style-type: none">A decrease in units exported to the U.S. from Japan, Mexico or other countries could result in decline in automotive materials sales
Aluminum parts exported to the U.S. by Japanese customers	For many products there are no alternative suppliers within the U.S., so the risk of a short-term decline in , sales is low
■ Impact on U.S. sites (TAA, UWH)
Can stock	<ul style="list-style-type: none">Local production/local consumption trend among U.S. manufacturers likely to accelerate, TAA transactions increasing
Automotive-related materials	<ul style="list-style-type: none">Switch by U.S. OEMs to parts made in the U.S. could lead to an increase in parts inquiries to UWH

To Be a Company That Continues to Be Chosen by Customers — Obtain ASI Certification

Aluminium Stewardship Initiative (ASI)

An international initiative aimed at enhancing sustainability initiatives across the aluminum supply chain as a whole and maximizing contribution to society from an ESG perspective

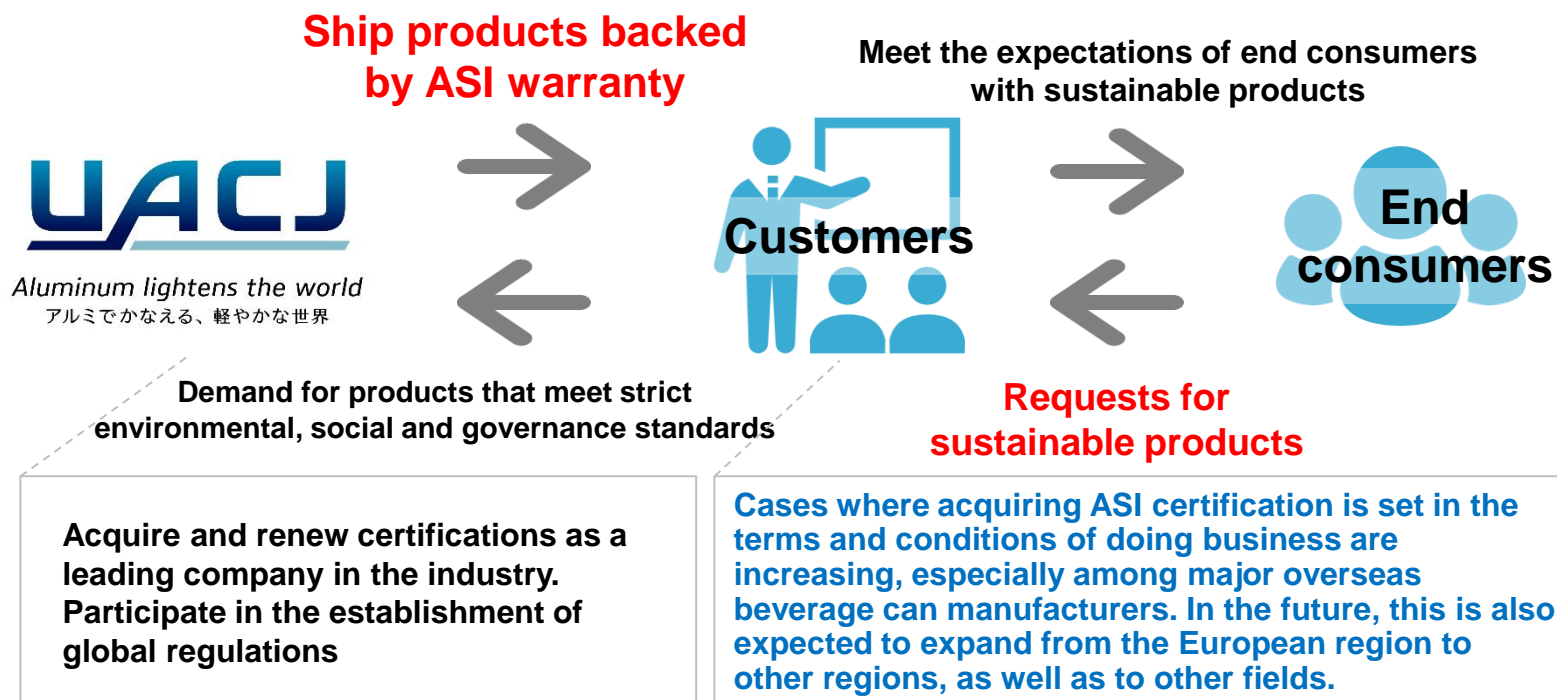

ASI was established in 2012, and participants include companies that are involved with aluminum in one way or another, such as the International Aluminium Institute, aluminum producers, manufacturers of processed aluminum products, and end-users.

Today, over 360 companies and organizations around the world have joined ASI.

The Fukui Works and UATH Rayong Works have obtained two certifications issued by ASI

Metal Price Lag

Metal price lag in the aluminum rolled product business

(1) Material cost calculation using the average method

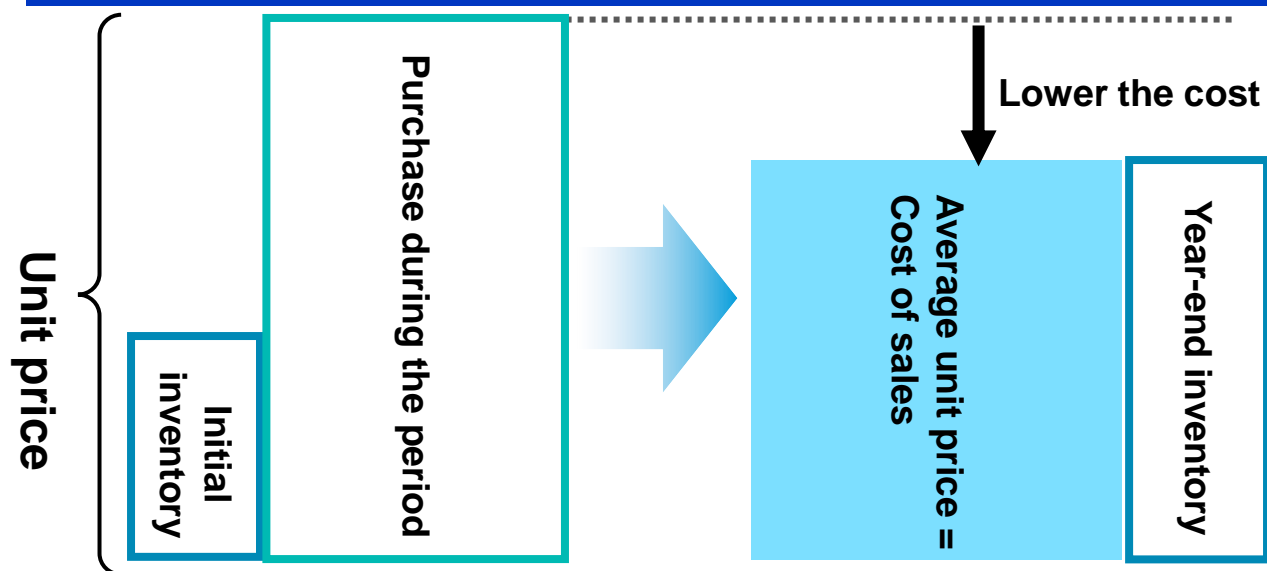

Calculate material costs using a weighted average of beginning-of-period inventory and aluminum ingot purchased during the period (Affected by beginning-of-period inventory)

(2) Time difference for aluminum ingot price fluctuations to be reflected in the selling price

$$(1) + (2) = \text{Metal Price Lag}$$

[Increase in aluminum ingot prices]
