Receipt of Rookie of the Year at NIKKEI Integrated Report Award 2025

Harmonic Drive Systems Inc. (hereinafter “the Company”) hereby announces that it has received the Rookie of the Year at the NIKKEI Integrated Report Award 2025 organized by Nikkei Inc.

NIKKEI Integrated Report Award 2025

The Company has published its integrated report since 2023 with the aim of communicating its medium- to long-term value creation process and growth strategy to stakeholders, including shareholders and investors.

The HDS REPORT 2025 features growth strategies for the AI robot market and the Chinese robot market, as well as interviews and roundtable discussions with presidents of group companies, employees, institutional investors, and outside directors.

In receiving the award, the Company was recognized for the “clear and easily understandable medium- to long-term growth drivers” and the “consistent value creation story and management strategy with a structure that is easy for stakeholders to understand.”

We will continue to further improve our integrated report and strive to enhance our corporate value through fair and transparent disclosure of information.

■ About the NIKKEI Integrated Report Award

From 1998, the “NIKKEI Annual Report Award” was held annually by Nikkei Inc. with the aim of promoting and enhancing the annual reports, which serve as a communication tool between Japanese companies and investors. In recent years, there has been a growing and widespread demand for companies to disclose corporate value information that includes not only financial information but also non-financial information. Consequently, the award was revamped in 2021 as the “NIKKEI Integrated Report Award,” with efforts made to diversify and expand the review system and to restructure and expand the award categories.

The NIKKEI Integrated Report Award 2025 saw a record 504 companies and organizations participate, and the winners were selected following a review by fund managers from financial institutions, analysts, and academic experts. For details on the review results, please visit the organizer’s website below. (Japanese only)
