Status of our compliance with the listing maintenance standards

As announced in our notice dated June 27, 2025, "Plan for compliance with the listing maintenance criteria (entering improvement period)," we were not in compliance with the listing maintenance standards of the Prime Market of the Tokyo Stock Exchange regarding the market capitalization of tradable shares and the average daily trading value; however, the average daily trading value for the period from January 1, 2025, to December 31, 2025, was 39 million yen, and we have complied with the listing maintenance standards.

Furthermore, as announced in our notice dated August 28, 2025, "Notice Regarding the Application for Market Category Change to the Tokyo Stock Exchange Standard Market," we have submitted an application to change our market segment to the Tokyo Stock Exchange Standard Market (hereinafter referred to as the "change application"). We will continue to carefully and promptly proceed with this change application, and promptly announce any matters that should be disclosed.
