Explanation of Actions

As of November 17, 2025, the relative TSR (total shareholder return) of the Company has improved significantly due to the higher profit level and enhanced shareholder returns for FY26/3, which is the final fiscal year of the current Medium-Term Management Plan. Incentives

Implementation Status of Measures related to Incentives Granted to Directors and Executive Officers

Introduction of Performance-linked Remuneration Scheme, Other.

Supplementary Explanation for Applicable Items

The Company has introduced a performance-linked monetary compensation, performance-linked stock compensation, and non-performance-linked stock compensation system for its Executive Officers to further enhance their awareness of their contribution toward steadily achieving the Company's performance targets and enhancing the medium-to-long term corporate value of the Company.

(1) Overview of performance-linked monetary compensation

In order to function as an incentive to encourage the steady achievement of performance targets for individual fiscal years, the Company's performance-linked monetary compensation (hereinafter referred to as "bonuses") is linked to short-term performance.

Bonus amounts are calculated by adding the amount based on company performance, as calculated by multiplying the standard amount for each position by the payout ratio that fluctuates according to the degree of achievement of performance targets set in the management plan and other factors to the amount based on individual performance, which is calculated by multiplying the standard amount for each position by the payout ratio based on the individual's performance evaluation. Individual evaluations of Executive Officers are based on an assessment of the performance and initiatives of the Executive Officers in their respective areas of responsibility.

Indicators related to company performance will be set from several different categories in order to enable a comprehensive judgment on the degree of management achievement. As appropriate to the form and content of our business, we use the financial indicators, namely "adjusted profit," "number of policies in force (individual insurance)," and "EV growth rate (RoEV)," as well as the non-financial indicators, namely "progress in the Medium-term Management Plan" and "occurrence of scandalous accidents and incidents and operation of the compliance system."

In addition, in the event of serious misconduct or a violation by the Executive Officer to whom the bonus is paid, the Company has a clawback mechanism under which the Executive Officer may be required to return all or part of the bonus amount paid to him or her.

(2) Overview of stock compensation

From the viewpoint of providing incentives linked to the Company's share price, Executive Officers receive two types of stock-based compensation: performance-linked stock compensation that reflects medium- to long-term business performance and non-performance-linked stock compensation.

We use a Board Benefit Trust structure to pay out stock-based compensation.

In accordance with (i) and (ii) below, Executive Officers shall be granted points that will serve as the basis for calculating the amount of the Company's shares to be granted and the amount of cash attainable through conversion of a certain portion of shares of the Company (hereinafter referred to as the "Company's shares, etc.").

(i) Performance-linked stock compensation

Following the conclusion of the final year of the Medium-term Management Plan period, Executive Officers will be awarded points calculated by multiplying the basic points commensurate with their duties by a payout ratio that fluctuates depending on the degree of achievement of performance targets set in the Medium-term Management Plan. In order to function as a healthy incentive for medium- to long-term improvement of corporate value and sustainable growth, the performance targets upon which the payout ratio is determined shall be based on the medium- to long-term targets and indicators set forth in the management plan. These indicators will be the "adjusted ROE," which is one of the key financial indicators in the current Medium-term Management Plan, and the "ESG indicators (status of GHG reduction measures, percentage of women in managerial positions at the Head Office, and improvement in the evaluation by ESG assessment organizations)," which are non-financial indicators.

In addition, in the event of serious misconduct or a violation by an Executive Officer eligible for payment, the Company has a mechanism in place to reduce or forfeit (malus) the points that form the basis for calculating the number of shares to be awarded to the Executive Officer in question.

(ii) Non-performance-linked stock compensation

Upon conclusion of each fiscal year, base points will be awarded to Executive Officers in accordance with their responsibilities.

If an Executive Officer who is eligible for payment of shares, etc. retires from the Company and satisfies the requirements for payment as stipulated in the Stock Benefit Rules, said Executive Officer shall receive from the Board Benefit Trust the number of the Company's Shares, etc. corresponding to the accumulated points granted as described in (i) and (ii) above after his/her resignation.

The policy on determining the payment ratio of performance-linked compensation and compensation other than performance-linked compensation, etc. has not been formulated.

Policy on Determining Remuneration Amounts and Calculation Methods

Established

Disclosure of Policy on Determining Remuneration Amounts and Calculation Methods

With regard to the compensation of Directors and Executive Officers of the Company, the Compensation Committee formulates the "Compensation Policies for Directors and Executive Officers by Individual" as follows (effective June 22, 2016):

[Compensation Policies for Directors and Executive Officers by Individual]

1. Compensation System

- (1) If a person serves concurrently as a Director and an Executive Officer, such person shall receive compensation as an Executive Officer.
- (2) Directors of the Company shall receive a fixed monetary compensation commensurate with their positions based on the scope and scale of their responsibilities for management, etc.
- (3) Executive Officers of the Company shall receive a basic compensation (fixed monetary compensation) commensurate with their duties, bonuses that provide short-term incentives, and stock compensation (both performance-linked and non-performance-linked) that provides medium- to long-term incentives under a system that offers sound incentives for achieving performance targets and contributing to the sustainable growth of the Company.

2. Compensation for Directors
Compensation for Directors shall comprise a fixed monetary compensation of a certain level commensurate with their positions based on the primary role of supervision of management, and such level shall be an appropriate level that gives consideration to the extent of their duties as Directors and the current state of the Company.

3. Compensation for Executive Officers
Compensation for Executive Officers shall comprise a basic compensation (fixed monetary compensation) of a certain level commensurate with their duties in light of the differences in responsibilities depending on position, performance-linked bonuses and stock compensation that reflect factors such as the degree of achievement of management plans, and non-performance-linked stock compensation.
The level of a basic compensation shall be an appropriate level that gives consideration to the extent of duties of Executive Officers and the current state of the Company. However, should the compensation commensurate with the position of an Executive Officer who is in charge of a field that requires special business knowledge and skills fall significantly below the general level of compensation of an officer who is in charge of a similar field at another company, such Executive Officer shall receive a basic compensation based on the level of compensation of other companies, instead of compensation commensurate with his or her duties in the Company.
In order to function as an incentive to encourage the steady achievement of performance targets for individual fiscal years, bonus amounts are calculated by adding the amount based on company performance, as calculated by multiplying the standard amount for each position by the payout ratio that fluctuates according to factors such as the degree of achievement of performance targets set in management plans to the amount based on individual performance, which is calculated by multiplying the standard amount for each position by the payout ratio based on the individual's performance evaluation. The resulting sum is to be paid out annually as monetary compensation.
In terms of stock compensation, in order to function as a healthy incentive for medium- to long-term improvement of corporate value and sustainable growth, Executive Officers shall be granted points after the final year of the Medium-term Management Plan, calculated by multiplying the basic points commensurate with their duties by a payout ratio that fluctuates according to factors such as the degree of achievement of management plans, as well as a fixed quantity of basic points to be granted on a yearly basis commensurate with their duties. At the time of retirement, Executive Officers shall receive stocks corresponding to the number of accumulated points and cash attainable through conversion of a certain portion of shares of the Company.

4. Other
If a person serves concurrently as a Director or an Executive Officer of the Company as well as a director, an auditor or an executive officer of a Group company, such person shall receive compensation from the entity where the person executes primary business.

Support System for Outside Directors
