In addition, there was one seconded employee from JAPAN POST HOLDINGS Co., Ltd.

The Bank consigns bank agency operations, etc. to JAPAN POST Co., Ltd. Utilizing personnel who are familiar with current agency conditions to support and guide agency operations, and also having agency personnel gain experience at the Bank's directly operated branches are to enhance the administrative quality of agencies and the operational knowledge of agency personnel. Furthermore, we plan to strengthen the sales capabilities of the Bank's directly operated branches and post offices collectively by having staff members of the Bank's Regional Headquarters and branches of JAPAN POST Co., Ltd. serve concurrently at each other's offices to collaborate in planning sales measures and managing their promotion, as well as in training sales personnel.

(Transaction relationship)

The Bank consigns bank agency operations, etc. to JAPAN POST Co., Ltd. based on an outsourcing agreement for bank agency services, etc. The Bank's business is heavily dependent on sales through the post office network of its agency, JAPAN POST Co., Ltd. For example, as of March 31, 2026, 23,071 of the Bank's 23,306 branches are agencies (post offices), and approximately 90% of the Bank's deposit balance is deposited into accounts opened at these agencies. The Bank pays JAPAN POST Co., Ltd. agency commissions for its services. The Bank has concluded the JAPAN POST GROUP agreement and other agreements with JAPAN POST HOLDINGS Co., Ltd., JAPAN POST Co., Ltd., and JAPAN POST INSURANCE Co., Ltd., to define basic matters related to group management, such as common group principles and policies, with the aim of facilitating smooth group operations. Based on these agreements, the Bank is required to hold prior consultations with JAPAN POST HOLDINGS Co., Ltd. on certain important matters, and is also licensed to use trademarks such as "Yucho," while paying brand royalty fees, calculated using a separately agreed method, in consideration of the benefits of belonging to the JAPAN POST GROUP.

(2) Business restrictions by, and benefits and risks of, belonging to the corporate group of the parent company

The Bank has concluded the contracts regarding operations of the JAPAN POST GROUP and other contracts with JAPAN POST HOLDINGS Co., Ltd., and the contracts stipulate important matters related to group operations, which include matters subject to advance consultation with the company, such as the management philosophy, the management policy, and the formulation or amendment of a medium-term management plan and an annual business plan, and matters to be reported to the company, such as monthly balance sheets and income statements. However, it is explicitly stated that JAPAN POST HOLDINGS Co., Ltd. shall not interfere with or bind the Bank's decision-making. Furthermore, the JAPAN POST GROUP agreement stipulates that the operating subsidiaries of JAPAN POST HOLDINGS Co., Ltd., including the Bank, shall conduct independent and autonomous management by utilizing the benefits of belonging to the JAPAN POST GROUP, and based on this, JAPAN POST HOLDINGS Co., Ltd. and JAPAN POST Co., Ltd. shall cooperate with each other to exert the collective strength of the JAPAN POST GROUP in ensuring the basic services ("universal services") defined in Article 7-2 of the Postal Service Privatization Act. However, under the Postal Service Privatization Act, the Bank is subject to restrictions on operations, application of deposit limits, and restrictions on ownership of subsidiaries, depending on the percentage of shareholding in JAPAN POST HOLDINGS Co., Ltd.

As of March 31, 2026, JAPAN POST HOLDINGS Co., Ltd. holds less than 50% of the total number of the Bank's voting rights. However, under the so-called effective control standards of the accounting standards applicable to the Bank, JAPAN POST HOLDINGS Co., Ltd. is recognized as the Bank's parent company.

Through its ownership of the Bank's shares, JAPAN POST HOLDINGS Co., Ltd. may have a significant impact on the outcome of resolutions of the Bank's General Meetings of Shareholders, including the election and dismissal of the Bank's Directors, mergers with other companies and other forms of organizational restructuring, capital reductions, and amendments to the Articles of Incorporation.

(3) Approach to securing a certain level of independence from the parent company, etc.

As described in (1) above, the Bank has a close relationship with JAPAN POST HOLDINGS Co., Ltd. and others in terms of personnel, capital, and business relationships. However, as described below, the Bank manages and operates its business independently and makes decisions on its own responsibility.

(Personnel relationships)

The Bank has adopted the framework of a corporation with a committee system such as the Nomination Committee in order to speed up decision-making and improve management transparency. The Board of Directors and the statutory and voluntary committees are in place to ensure that the management of the Bank can be checked.

The Board of Directors consists of 14 Members of the Board of Directors as of June 19, 2026. Three of the 14 members concurrently serve as officers in the JAPAN POST GROUP. In addition, nine are Outside Members of the Board of Directors, all of whom are designated as Independent Directors as stipulated by Tokyo Stock Exchange.

Given that the majority of Members of the Board of Directors are Outside Members of the Board of Directors and that the number of Members of the Board of Directors and Executive Officers who concurrently hold positions at other companies in the JAPAN POST GROUP is limited, the Bank is in a position to make independent management decisions.

In addition, as described in (1) above, the Bank has employees on secondment from JAPAN POST Co., Ltd. and other companies and employees concurrently working for JAPAN POST Co., Ltd. However, none of these employees on secondment or concurrently working employees are in positions or have duties that influence the Bank's important decision-making.

(Transaction relationships)

As described in 3. Matters concerning transactions with controlling shareholder, etc. below, the Bank has concluded contracts and conducts transactions with companies in the JAPAN POST GROUP. In concluding or revising such contracts to conduct the transactions, the Bank confirms the purpose and necessity of the transactions, as well as the appropriateness of the transaction terms (the arm's-length rule prescribed by the Banking Act), and has established a framework for properly managing transactions within the JAPAN POST GROUP. In addition, the Board of Directors deliberates and approves important transactions between the Bank and companies of the JAPAN POST GROUP, as well as non-routine transactions between the Bank and its major shareholders, in order to monitor such transactions to ensure that they do not harm the Bank or the common interests of shareholders.

(a) Transactions with JAPAN POST HOLDINGS Co., Ltd.

As described in (2) above, the Bank has concluded the contracts regarding operations of the JAPAN POST GROUP and other contracts with JAPAN POST HOLDINGS Co., Ltd., under which important matters related to group operations include matters subject to advance consultation with the company, such as the management philosophy, the management policy, and the formulation or amendment of a medium-term management plan and an annual business plan, and matters to be reported to the company, such as monthly balance sheets and income statements. However, it is explicitly stated that JAPAN POST HOLDINGS Co., Ltd. shall not interfere with or bind the Bank's decision-making.

In addition, since FY2016/3, the Bank has paid brand royalty fees in consideration of the benefits of belonging to the JAPAN POST GROUP.

The brand royalty fees include trademark usage fees for "Yucho" and other trademarks, and the total amount of the fees to be paid for each fiscal year is calculated by multiplying representative business indicators through which the Bank benefits from the JAPAN POST GROUP's brand strength by a rate mutually agreed upon by the Bank and JAPAN POST HOLDINGS Co., Ltd., with reference to examples from other corporate groups. Specifically, the amount is the average deposit balance for the previous fiscal year multiplied by 0.0023%.

The calculation method above shall remain unchanged unless significant changes in economic conditions or other special circumstances arise.

(b) Transactions with JAPAN POST Co., Ltd.

JAPAN POST Co., Ltd., together with JAPAN POST HOLDINGS Co., Ltd., has universal service obligations under the Japan Post Company Act to ensure that services, such as postal services, simple deposits, remittance and debt settlement services, and easily accessible life insurance, are provided through post offices in a user-oriented, simple, and integrated manner to be fairly accessible nationwide. Among these services, in order to provide simple deposits and remittance and debt settlement services as a bank agency, JAPAN POST Co., Ltd. has concluded a bank counter services agreement with the Bank (under Article 2, Paragraph 2; Article 4, Paragraph 1; and Article 5 of the Japan Post Co., Ltd. Act), and this is also stipulated in the Bank's Articles of Incorporation.

Under the bank counter services agreement, JAPAN POST Co., Ltd. operates bank counter services as universal services (deposits, money order, remittances / payments) with the Bank as the affiliated bank.

Accordingly, collaboration between the two companies is indispensable for the Bank's business operations and for the fulfillment of the universal service obligations of JAPAN POST Co., Ltd.

The Bank has concluded a payment guideline agreement with JAPAN POST Co., Ltd., which specifies the calculation method for agency commissions to be paid in consideration of the consigned bank agency operations, and pays agency commissions to JAPAN POST Co., Ltd.

On December 1, 2018, amendments to the Act on the Management Organization for Postal Savings and Postal Life Insurance came into effect. The costs required to maintain the post office network were previously covered by agency commissions based on contracts between JAPAN POST Co., Ltd. and the affiliated bank and affiliated insurance company. Beginning with FY2020/3, the Bank and JAPAN POST INSURANCE Co., Ltd. are required to contribute to the Organization for Postal Savings, Postal Life Insurance and Post Office Network a share of the costs that are indispensable for securing the universal services (except for those incurred by JAPAN POST Co., Ltd.). The Organization for Postal Savings, Postal Life Insurance and Post Office Network in turn delivers these funds to JAPAN POST Co., Ltd.

As a result, the costs associated with the services consigned to JAPAN POST Co., Ltd. are covered by contributions and new agency commissions , instead of the previous agency commissions .

Specifically, for FY2020/3 and beyond, the previous calculation method for agency commissions has been changed and the following calculation method has been used to pay agency commissions.

(Basic agency commissions )

Agency commissions consist of basic agency commissions (fees for clerical operations for deposits, investment trusts, remittance and settlement, etc.) and sales and clerical work rewards.

Basic agency commissions are calculated by multiplying the previous year's basic agency commissions by the rate of change from the previous year, which is derived from the amount corresponding to the costs for consigned services, which is calculated based on the volume of work handled at JAPAN POST Co., Ltd., on the basis of the unit operating costs calculated annually through the Bank's managerial accounting.

Basic agency commissions are set and paid each year by determining the rates and unit prices separately for clerical operations related to assets under management such as deposits and investment trusts, and clerical operations related to remittance settlement and other services provided.

(Sales and clerical work rewards)

Sales and clerical work rewards are paid commensurate with results to ensure the achievement of sales targets and improvement of administrative quality.

Agency commissions for FY2026/3 totaled ¥297.8 billion, consisting of ¥133.7 billion for assets under management, ¥121.9 billion for remittances, etc., and ¥42.1 billion for sales and clerical work rewards.

3. Matters concerning transactions with controlling shareholder, etc.

Transaction conditions and policies on determining transaction conditions, etc.

- (Notes)
1. The figures are determined based on costs, etc., incurred in connection with commissions on bank agency services, etc.
  2. The figures represent advance payments of funds necessary for delivery of deposits in bank agency services.
The transaction amounts are presented on an average balance basis for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2026.
  3. The figures represent the unsettled amount between the Bank and JAPAN POST Co., Ltd. in connection with receipt/payment operations with customers in bank agency services.
Transaction amounts are not presented because, being settlement transactions, these amounts are substantial.
  4. Payment is made for consigned operations, such as loading and unloading, storage, and delivery of articles at rates determined based on the arm's length principle.
  5. In addition to the above transactions, pursuant to the Act on Organization for Postal Savings, Postal Life Insurance and Post Office Network, from the fiscal year ended March 31, 2020, of the costs necessary to maintain the post office network, the costs that are indispensable for securing the universal services (except for those incurred by JAPAN POST Co., Ltd.) are covered by the subsidy from the Organization for Postal Savings, Postal Life Insurance and Post Office Network granted to JAPAN POST Co., Ltd. The subsidy has been funded by contributions from the Bank and JAPAN POST INSURANCE Co., Ltd. The contribution made by the Bank for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2026 was ¥263,079 million.

4. Progress of implementation of measures to protect minority shareholders when conducting transactions, etc. with controlling shareholder

The Bank has concluded contracts and conducts transactions with companies in the JAPAN POST GROUP which is comprised of the parent company, JAPAN POST HOLDINGS Co., Ltd., and its subsidiaries and affiliates.

In concluding or revising such contracts to conduct the transactions, the Bank confirms the purpose and necessity of the transactions, as well as the appropriateness of the transaction terms (the arm's-length rule prescribed by the Banking Act), and has established a framework for properly managing transactions within the JAPAN POST GROUP. In addition, the Board of Directors deliberates and approves important transactions between the Bank and companies of the JAPAN POST GROUP, as well as non-routine transactions between the Bank and its major shareholders, in order to monitor such transactions to ensure that they do not harm the Bank or the common interests of shareholders.
