Notice Regarding Acquisition of Shares in CLANE DESIGN Inc.

Gyet Co., Ltd. (hereinafter "the Company") resolved at the Board of Directors meeting held on August 20, 2026, to acquire a portion of the common shares of CLANE DESIGN Inc. (hereinafter "CLANE"), and hereby announces the details as set forth below.
Please note that following the completion of this share acquisition, the Company's shareholding ratio in CLANE is expected to be 19.0%.

1. Reasons for Share Acquisition

The Company Group, while maintaining its apparel business as its foundation, is working to restructure existing businesses and create new growth opportunities.
CLANE is an apparel company that possesses a unique brand concept and product planning capabilities, and has established a certain customer base through e-commerce and store expansion. In addition, CLANE has expertise in product development, brand management, and building ongoing relationships with customers, and has formed a distinctive business foundation in the apparel market, which continues to experience changes in the competitive environment.
The Company values CLANE's brand value, product planning capabilities, sales know-how, and business foundation in the apparel sector. The Company has determined that by building a relationship with CLANE, it can expand the knowledge of the Company's group regarding brand management, product planning, sales strategies, and other areas, and that examining future business collaboration possibilities and new business opportunities will contribute to enhancing the competitiveness of the Company's group's apparel business and increasing corporate value. Accordingly, the Company has decided to acquire a portion of CLANE's shares.

Please note that, at this time, there are no plans for the Company to dispatch new officers to CLANE, conclude a business alliance agreement, make additional share acquisitions, or provide financial support in connection with this share acquisition.
Should any matters requiring disclosure arise in the future, the Company will promptly provide notification.
