- Investments in intellectual property

Olympus Corporation believes that the strategic use of intellectual property (IP) is increasingly important as the competitive environment in the medical device market intensifies. Following a reassessment of its existing patent portfolio in accordance with a globally standardized process for determining whether to maintain patent rights, Olympus Corporation’s IP function has been working to streamline its holdings by retaining only those patents necessary for its business. As a result, we have reduced portfolio assets by approximately 2,000 patents over the past three years. The financial resources released from this are being allocated to strategic IP investments in high-growth business areas that will be key drivers of future revenue. We have classified our company-wide business areas into approximately 50 categories, identified high-growth business areas with market or sales growth rates of double digits or more, and concentrated IP investments accordingly. As a result, the proportion of our patent portfolio in high-growth business areas has been continually increasing. Moreover, to drive continuous innovation, we are strengthening IP activities at the early stage of development, and we have also made progress on introduction of the international standard for IP management systems (ISO 56005), reaching an implementation rate of 96%. We will proceed further with development of an IP management system in compliance with the international standard ISO 56005 as we work toward sustainable growth. We have published initiatives related to intellectual property in our integrated reports.

- The impact of climate change-related risks and earning opportunities on our business activities and profits

The Olympus Group is using scenario analysis to identify risks and opportunities related to climate change in the short, medium, and long term. Although there will be some impact of climate change risks on the Olympus Group’s strategy and financial plans, the degree of impact is estimated to be relatively small. At the same time, we will continue to develop eco-friendly products based on energy saving, etc., by viewing the growing need for products that help reduce greenhouse gas emissions as an opportunity related to climate change. The products of the Olympus Group are compact and consume little energy when used. Therefore, since climate change has little impact on demand for products and services, we also recognize it does not have a major impact on business activities. We have published our climate change-related initiatives on our website and in our integrated reports.

[Supplementary principle 4-1-1 Scope of delegation to the management team]

We clearly separate the monitoring function from the executional function of management as a company with Nominating Committee, etc. to accelerate and streamline decision making in the execution of duties and further increase the transparency as part of enhancing governance. The Board of Directors aims to accelerate and streamline management decision making and execution by having a structure that focuses on deciding important matters on core managerial elements and management monitoring, delegating more authority to executive officers concerning decision making on the execution of duties and matters related to business execution. In addition, the Board of Directors makes decisions on matters related to the Basic Management Policy and internal control systems as well as other important matters and matters related to the execution of important duties, and receives reports from executive officers. Matters to be referred to the Board of Directors are set forth in Regulations of the Board of Directors and The Board of Directors Resolutions/Reporting Criteria.

[Principle 4-9 Independence standards and qualification for independent outside directors]

The Board of Directors determines criteria for ensuring the independence of independent outside directors, which are detailed in this report, section II. 1. “Organizational Composition and Operation,” sub-section “Matters Concerning Independent Directors.” In addition, the Nominating Committee, which consists solely of independent outside directors, assesses the independence of candidates, thereby ensuring practical independence, and at the same time verifies that the selected candidates can be expected to contribute to the Board of Directors.

[Supplementary principle 4-10-1 The mandates and roles as well as the policy regarding the independence of the composition of each committee]

The mandates and roles as well as the policy regarding the independence of the composition of each committee are described in Attachment 1 “Basic Policy on Corporate Governance,” 4.-(7) of this report.

[Supplementary principle 4-11-1 Balance, composition and scale for the Board of Directors, and policies and procedures for election of the directors]

At Olympus Corporation, the Nominating Committee creates a matrix of the experience and insight required from directors of Olympus Corporation, and determines director candidates. Balance and composition for the Board of Directors, and policies and procedures for election of the directors are stated in Attachment 1 “Basic Policy on Corporate Governance,” 4.-(3), (4), and (9) of this report. As for the composition of the Board of Directors, of 11 directors, ten are independent outside directors. In addition, of 11 directors, seven have a citizenship other than Japanese nationality, and two are women. With multiple human resources equipped with abundant experience and insight in corporate management, finance and international business deployment, the Board has a composition with consideration for ensuring a range of viewpoints as well. The reasons for the election of each director and skill matrix are described in the reference documentation to proposals for the election of directors, which is part of the convocation notice of the general meeting of shareholders and in this report (section II. Business Management Organization and Other Corporate Governance Systems Regarding Decision-Making, Execution of Business, and Monitoring, 1. Organizational Composition and Operation, and Attachment 2 “Directors Skills Matrix”).

[Supplementary principle 4-11-3 Self-evaluation for the Board of Directors]

With the goal of realizing effective corporate governance, every year since 2015, we have conducted an evaluation of the overall effectiveness of the Board of Directors and disclosed a summary of the results. Evaluations are based primarily on questionnaires targeting all directors, but in view of the situation in the fiscal year concerned, other methods are also employed, including discussions and interviews with individual directors. Furthermore, in order to ensure the objectivity of evaluations, a third party (outside consultant) is also involved in the evaluation process. The results are analyzed to be shared with the Board of Directors and utilized to identify actions for improving the effectiveness of the Board of Directors and to consider future initiatives. In order to pursue “Making people’s lives healthier, safer and more fulfilling” in our Corporate Philosophy, we continue to work to strengthen corporate governance, an important part of our management platform, and to enhance transparency. A summary of the evaluation of the Board of Directors is published on our website.

Evaluation of effectiveness of the Board of Directors:

[Supplementary principle 4-14-2 Training for directors]

As part of training for directors, we are providing support to promote understanding of views and recognition of issues on the executive side, and to deepen understanding of the roles and responsibilities of directors of Olympus Corporation, by having meetings with newly appointed directors and executive officers. In addition, we provide opportunities for visits to our major business bases such as business offices and factories, and product demonstrations, etc. as needed, in order to support the acquisition of knowledge about our business. We will also provide necessary support including covering costs for gaining knowledge required to carry out their duties as a director.

[Principle 5-1 Policy concerning constructive interaction with shareholders]

Policies concerning the creation of frameworks and efforts to promote the constructive interaction with shareholders are described in the section “Basic Policy on Corporate Governance,” 5.-(1) in Attachment 1 of this report.

[Content of Liabilities Limitation Agreement]

In order to enable directors to fully discharge their expected functions, we have entered with directors (excluding executive directors, etc.) into agreements based on the provisions of Article 427, paragraph (1) of the Companies Act which limit the indemnification liability pursuant to Article 423, paragraph (1) of the Companies Act, such that the indemnification liability under the said agreements corresponds to the statutory minimum indemnification liability amount. [Content of Indemnification Agreement]

We have entered into indemnification agreements pursuant to Article 430-2, Paragraph 1 of the Companies Act with all directors and executive officers. Olympus Corporation will indemnify the directors and executive officers for the expenses mentioned in the first item of the same paragraph and for the losses mentioned in the second item of the same paragraph to the extent provided by law. The said insurance agreement covers damages that may arise when the insured assumes liability for the execution of his or her duties or receives claims related to the pursuit of such liability. However, measures are in place that exclude coverage of the insurance for damages arising from a criminal act or act carried out by the insured who is aware that the act is in violation of laws or regulations, so that the appropriateness of the execution of the duties will not be impaired.

3. Reasons for Adoption of Current Corporate Governance System Updated

As described below, taking the structure of a company with Nominating Committee, etc., we strive to accelerate and streamline decision making in the execution of duties and to further enhance governance through measures such as strengthening supervisory functions and further increasing transparency.

1. Acceleration and Streamlining of Management Decision Making and Business Execution

Functions are separated based on the basic principle of “separation of corporate monitoring and business execution” in a “a company with nominating committee, etc.” The Board of Directors focuses on deciding important matters on core managerial elements and management monitoring, and works to enhance management speed and monitoring functions. We will seek to accelerate and streamline management decision-making and execution by delegating more authority to executive officers concerning matters related to daily business execution.

2. Reinforced Monitoring Function in Management

We will establish three committees as defined by law; nominating committee, compensation committee and audit committee, which consist solely of independent outside directors, supervise management through the functions of each committee, and build more appropriate management monitoring system.

3. Increased Transparency in Management

The nominating committee, which consists solely of independent outside directors, will decide candidates for directors, while the compensation committee, which also consists solely of independent outside directors, will decide compensation of directors and executive officers. These committees will improve the transparency of director and executive officer assignment and compensation decisions. We will seek to further increase its management transparency to domestic and foreign stakeholders.
