1. Qualitative information on Nine-months results

(1) Earnings

In the first nine months of the fiscal year ending March 2026, the Japanese economy continued its gradual recovery, supported by improvements in the employment and income conditions. However, the outlook remained uncertain due to concerns about the impact of US trade policy on the domestic economy.

In the information and communications services industry to which the Group belongs, the market continued to expand, underpinned by sustained high levels of capital investment. This investment appetite was underpinned by the acceleration of digital transformation (DX), advances in generative AI technology, and the need to address social challenges including productivity improvements to offset labor shortages and heightened security risks.

In this environment, the company group has set a long-term vision through FY2032: Growth Navigator—a group that guides and co-creates growth. To realize this vision and remain a company consistently chosen by customers as a partner that leads their growth, we are implementing our three-year medium-term management plan, “Transformation 2026.” The plan centers on enhancing earnings capabilities by shifting resources to growth areas, while also pursuing integrated initiatives such as capital cost-conscious management and strengthening human capital, with the aim of further increasing corporate value.

During the first nine months of the fiscal year under review, efforts to shift resources to growth areas and strengthen pricing management proved effective, resulting in continued sales growth and improved profitability. As a result, net sales increased 3.1% year on year to 67,326 million yen, operating profit rose 66.9% to 4,005 million yen, ordinary profit grew 64.3% to 4,141 million yen, and profit attributable to owners of parent increased 91.6% to 3,327 million yen, resulting in higher sales and a significant increase in profits, with operating profit and ordinary profit reaching record highs.

Segment information has been omitted, as the Group operates under a single-segment business structure.

Results by business model for the first nine months of the current fiscal year were as follows.

*Note regarding quarterly earnings for the Group

Many of our customers operate on an April-to-March fiscal year, resulting in a tendency for sales and operating income to peak in September and March.

Results by business model

Equipment:

Net sales increased 0.5% year on year to 24,030 million yen, driven by expanded server installations and storage demand from manufacturing customers. Orders rose sharply by 33.2% year on year to 37,762 million yen, reflecting the acquisition of large-scale equipment installation projects for government agencies and financial institutions.

Development and construction:

Net sales increased 12.2% year on year to 11,330 million yen, significantly exceeding the year-ago level, driven by growth in network and contact center construction projects. Orders increased 6.2% year on year to 12,609 million yen, partly due to the acquisition of multiple large-scale network construction projects.

Service:

Net sales increased 2.2% year on year to 31,965 million yen, supported by growth in contract values for recurring-revenue businesses, including cloud service usage fees. Orders rose 0.5% year on year to 31,794 million yen, reflecting the acquisition of large-scale contract opportunities for DX services for logistics operations, a key focus area.

The following tables show sales and orders by business model in the first nine months of the fiscal year.

(2) Financial position

Total assets as of December 31, 2025 amounted to 77,430 million yen, down 2,633 million yen from March 31, 2025. This was primarily due to decreases of 5,621 million yen in notes and accounts receivable—trade and contract assets, 1,547 million yen in cash and deposits, and 876 million yen in investment securities, offsetting an increase of 4,977 million yen in inventories.

Total liabilities amounted to 31,582 million yen, down 3,851 million yen from March 31, 2025. This mainly reflected decreases of 2,285 million yen in notes and accounts payable—trade, 909 million yen in the provision for bonuses, and 596 million yen in short-term borrowings.

Net assets totaled 45,848 million yen, up 1,218 million yen from March 31, 2025, and the equity ratio rose to 58.6%, from 55.2% as of March 31, 2025. This was primarily due to an increase in retained earnings resulting from the recording of 3,327 million yen in profit attributable to owners of parent, partially offset by a decrease in retained earnings due to dividend payments totaling 1,952 million yen.

(3) Consolidated earnings forecasts and other information concerning the outlook

Under the medium-term management plan, Transformation 2026, the Company continues to pursue initiatives aimed at expanding growth areas and improving profitability in existing businesses.

Backed by the success of various measures—including a shift in resource allocation to growth areas and pricing management, the transition to a high-profitability business structure has steadily delivered results. In addition, the Company recorded extraordinary gains from the partial sale of investment securities. As a result, operating income, ordinary income, and profit attributable to owners of parent are now expected to exceed the previously announced forecasts. The Company has therefore revised its forecast for operating income to 8,000 million yen (an increase of 19.4% from the previous forecast), ordinary income to 8,150 million yen (an increase of 20.7%), and profit attributable to owners of parent to 6,000 million yen (an increase of 33.3%).

(Notes on premise of going concern)

Not applicable.

(Notes on significant changes in the amount of shareholders equity)

Not applicable.

(Application of special accounting methods in the preparation of quarterly consolidated financial statements)

(Calculation of tax expense)

Tax expenses are calculated by reasonably estimating the effective tax rate after applying tax effect accounting to income before income taxes for the fiscal year, including the third quarter consolidated accounting period, and multiplying income before income taxes by the estimated effective tax rate.

Note: Income taxes – deferred are included in income taxes.

(Segment and other information)

Segment information has been omitted because the Group operates in a single segment.

(Notes to consolidated statement of cash flows)

The Company has not prepared a consolidated statement of cash flows for the third quarter of the consolidated fiscal year under review. Depreciation (including amortization expenses related to intangible fixed assets) and amortization of goodwill for the said period are as follows.
