Investment in TNB Aura Fund III VCC, a Singapore-based Venture Capital Fund

Fuyo General Lease Co., Ltd. ("Fuyo Lease"), headquartered in Chiyoda-ku, Tokyo, Japan, is pleased to announce that it has made an investment in TNB Aura Fund III VCC (the "Fund"), a venture capital fund managed by TNB Aura and based in Singapore.

TNB Aura is a thesis-led, high-conviction venture capital firm investing in tech startups across Southeast Asia, leveraging data-driven methodologies to identify and invest in select companies that are primed for the future and ready to change the very face of their categories.

The Fund focuses on investments in high-growth startups across Southeast Asia. Leveraging its proprietary research capabilities and strong local network with leading companies and startups, the Fund aims to support the growth of businesses that contribute to solving social challenges in Southeast Asia, a promising market driven by population growth and economic expansion, where demand for social infrastructure is expected to continue rising.

Through this investment in the Fund, Fuyo Lease aims to enhance its understanding of industrial structures and emerging growth sectors in Southeast Asia, while strengthening relationships with leading companies in the region and creating new business opportunities, including M&A, strategic investments, and business partnerships.

Under its medium-term management plan "Fuyo Shared Value 2026," the Fuyo Lease Group aims to achieve both the resolution of social challenges and the enhancement of corporate value and will leverage the knowledge and network gained through this Fund to strengthen business domains positioned as growth areas and create new value.
