1. Qualitative Information concerning Financial Results for the Third Quarter of FY2018

In the three months ended December 31, 2018 (October 1, 2018 to December 31, 2018), the JAL Group caused a series of incidents that significantly undermined the trust from society. Taking this matter extremely seriously, we will put in Group-wide efforts to prevention of recurrence and will work determinedly to restore public trust and to ensure safety and sense of security.

On December 21, 2018, Japan Airlines was issued a “Business Improvement Order concerning Assurance of Safety in Air Transportation,” by the Ministry of Land, Infrastructure, Transport and Tourism (MLIT) due to safety concerns raised by an alcohol-related incident by a flight crew and the change of the number of assigned flight crew. On the same day, Japan Air Commuter was issued an “Administrative Warning regarding Inappropriate Behavior by a Flight Crew and an Insufficient Safety Management System” against an alcohol-related incident by a flight crew. Further, on January 11, 2019, Japan Airlines was issued a “Business Improvement Advisory concerning Assurance of Safety in Air Transportation” against an alcohol-related incident by a cabin attendant.

In response to this administrative action and administrative guidance, JAL submitted a report to the MLIT on January 18, 2019. With sincere apology for causing this issue, we have established an in-house review committee directly under the President and will rebuild safety systems beyond existing frameworks. We will make all-out efforts to restore the trust from customers and society. The committee will focus on root problems that are lying in the background of these unsafe acts that eventually triggered impediments to safety and sense of security recently. In this process, the committee will receive recommendations from the JAL Safety Advisory Group, an external panel of safety experts.

On April 1, 2018 Yuji Akasaka took office of President of Japan Airlines and a new management team was established. JAL will continue to pursue safety and sense of security and implement initiatives to accomplish the Medium Term Management Plan up until FY2020 under the theme, “Challenge, Leading to Growth.”

Regarding safety, an incident in May, in which metallic parts of an engine fell to the ground shortly after takeoff from Kumamoto Airport, was rated a Serious Incident (*1), and an incident in June, in which a cabin attendant suffered a fractured bone during cruising, was rated an Aircraft Accident (*2) by the MLIT. We will thoroughly investigate into their cause, implement measures to prevent recurrence.

Many natural disasters struck Japan, such as the torrential rains in July 2018 that caused severe damage centered in west Japan, the landfall of typhoons such as Typhoon Jebi (Typhoon No. 21) and the Hokkaido Eastern Iburi Earthquake. In response to these natural disasters, the JAL Group proactively implemented measures to fulfill its social mission as a public transport operator, such as providing emergency transportation services for relief supplies and offering discount fares to support recovery assistance of the affected areas. At the same time, we disseminated information to domestic and international visitors that there would be no safety concern when traveling to these regions.

To summarize the business environment in the Third Quarter Period, although U.S.-China trade frictions and political instability in Europe were observed in global economies, but major global economies including the Japanese and the U.S. economies remained robust and spurred both international and domestic air travel demand and global demand for airfreight. On the other hand, crude oil prices, which affect our fuel costs and international passenger and international cargo revenues, increased significantly over the previous year, because of the extended oil production cuts by OPEC and heightening geopolitical risks caused by growing tension in the Middle East. This caused unstable oil price fluctuations such as a steep rise in the first-half of the fiscal year ending March 2019 and a sharp drop from December. The JAL Group will do its best to mitigate the negative impacts of oil price volatility on its financial performance through the collection of fuel surcharge, appropriate hedging and monitoring of impacts on economic trends and the Group’s financial performance.

JAL will proceed with the JAL Group Medium Term Management Plan for Fiscal Years 2017-2020. JAL will grow further and contribute to the success of the Tokyo 2020 Olympic and Paralympic Games, the achievement of the goal of 40 million foreign tourists to Japan, regional revitalization and tourism enhancement. To “refine our full service carrier business”, JAL will take actions to improve customer service thorough new route inauguration, cabin configuration optimization, introduction of new aircraft and partnership with partner airlines. With improvement of its products, services and on-time performance, JAL was awarded the 5-Star rating in the World Airline Awards by SKYTRAX. Also, it won the award for the Best Economy Class Airline Seat for the third time with two consecutive years. Further, JAL was named Asia Pacific Airline of the Year 2018 by the Centre for Aviation (CAPA) and the Most Consistent Winner, an award given to the airline with the best on-time performance in domestic and international flights in the past five years, by FlightGlobal. To “expand business domain”, JAL will explore and develop new business with our know-how and customer base.

In international passenger operations, outbound demand from Japan was steady while inbound demand remained robust with the number of visitors to Japan in 2018 reaching 31.19 million, exceeding the 30 million mark for the first time. To capture the increasing demand, JAL proactively increased capacity by optimizing cabin configuration to balance demand and supply and increase seat availability. Together with the new routes that had been launched in FY2017 (Tokyo (Narita)=Kona, Tokyo (Narita)=Melbourne and the second flight on Tokyo (Haneda)= London routes), as a result, available seat kilometers (ASK) increased by 6.2% year over year, passenger traffic grew by 7.8% year over year, revenue passenger kilometers (RPK) rose by 7.4% year over year, and load factor was 81.8%, the highest ever recorded.

In route operations, JAL announced new service launches between Tokyo (Haneda)=Manila (from February 1, 2019) and Tokyo (Narita)=Seattle (from March 31, 2019). JAL also strengthened and expanded partnerships with other airlines. With regard to codeshare agreements, JAL announced the launch and expansion of codeshare flights with S7 Airlines of Russia (from April 29, 2018), Garuda Indonesia (from October 28, 2018), Vietjet Air (from October 28, 2018), Alaska Airlines (from March 31, 2019), British Airways (BA) on the BA-operated Kansai=London route (from March 31, 2019) and Finnair (AY) on the AY-operated Kansai=Helsinki route on which AY will increase its services (from March 31, 2019). To promote joint businesses with partner airlines, JAL filed an application for antitrust immunity with Hawaiian Airlines in June and with China Eastern Airlines in October, aiming to form a joint business with these airlines.

On the product and service front, JAL introduced JAL International Award Ticket PLUS from December to provide more convenience and accessibility of award tickets. By redeeming additional miles, customers can request seats for award travel that would be waitlisted under the conventional JAL International Award Ticket rules.

On Hawaii routes, JAL introduced new services to meet diversifying customer needs and enhanced services to further increase brand preference under a new concept “Style yourself ~JAL HAWAII~”. For example, JAL opened a new lounge at Daniel K. Inouye International Airport in August, launched a new early check-in service with partner hotels and a reciprocal mileage program with Hawaiian Airlines in October, and plans to introduce JAL dedicated self-service check-in at the airport Daniel K. Inouye International Airport from the end of March 2019.

The new passenger service system, which was renewed in November 2017, is running smoothly and effectively, and its effects are being steadily observed such as yield management with greater precision and revenue increases on overseas online sales channels.

In international cargo operations, airfreight demand in the first-half of the fiscal year was strong, centered on automobile- and semiconductor-related shipments, as observed in the previous year, and remained steady even after October.

In domestic passenger operations, to cater the robust demand, JAL further expanded routes operated with the Embraer 190 centered on routes in and out of Osaka (Itami) Airport, and rolled out JAL SKY NEXT-configured Boeing 737-800 aircraft on Okinawa (Naha) routes operated by Japan Transocean Air. As a result, passenger traffic grew by 2.0% year over year, revenue passenger kilometers (RPK) rose by 1.6% year over year, and the load factor was 72.9%, the highest ever recorded.

In route operations, JAL launched new services between the islands of Tokunoshima=Okinoerabu=Okinawa (Naha), also known as the “Amami Islands Hopping Route,” from July 2018 operated by Japan Air Commuter to further expand travel among the Amami Islands. Further, operations with the ATR72-600 were launched for the first time in Japan by Japan Air Commuter.

On the product and service front, to make mileage services more convenient to use, acceptance of award reservations was extended to one day prior to flight departure from October. In addition, JAL tied up with Kyushu Railway Company to offer optional services for customers travelling to airports in Kyushu by redeeming miles as an optional service for customers traveling to airports in Kyushu with the domestic award ticket service “Random Destination Miles(Dokokani Mile).”

To support recovery of leisure demand that had dropped after the 2018 Hokkaido Eastern Iburi Earthquake, JAL launched “Support Sakitoku” fares with larger discounts than usual on routes to and from Hokkaido, and sold JAL Dynamic Package travel products such as “Let’s Go with JAL Hokkaido Recovery Fares” and “Hokkaido Donations Tours” in order to cooperate in restoration of affected areas. In addition, to cater to inbound demand, JAL lowered discount domestic fares of “JAL Japan Explorer Pass” as a limited-time offer for inbound visitors on Hokkaido and Kansai routes (Kansai, Itami, Nanki-Shirahama) to revitalize leisure demand including inbound visitors.

The new passenger service system also generated yield management with greater precision in domestic passenger operations

JAL will create new products, services and business through innovation enhanced by integration of human resources of JAL group and advanced technology. In July, JAL established T.B.L. Co., Ltd. as a preparatory company for a new medium- and long-haul low-cost business and steadily started preparations to launch medium- and long-haul flights to destinations in Asia, Europe and the Americas from its base at Tokyo (Narita) International Airport in 2020. Also, JAL is proceeding with projects based on the business concept of open innovation, where internal and external knowledge is used to create added-value and new businesses.

To contribute to solving social issues such as SDGs, JAL invested in September in Fulcrum BioEnergy, Inc., a US-based company which produces biojet fuel, to promote the use of biojet fuels to reduce CO₂ emissions. Fulcrum BioEnergy is currently constructing its first commercial plant to begin operation in 2020.

For financial strategy and capital policy, JAL took concrete measures to improve capital efficiency and realize stable shareholder returns. In May it cancelled its shares, and in September, issued straight bonds (10-year and 20-year bonds) totaling 20 billion yen as part of disciplinary debt utilization. In October, JAL was honored with the 2018 Award for Excellence in Corporate Disclosure in the Transportation Industry by the Securities Analysts Association of Japan. We will continue to further improve disclosures in quantity and quality to realize constructive dialogue with markets and investors.

b. Reasons for Revisions of Financial Forecast for the Fiscal Year Ending March 31, 2019

We have revised market preconditions to reflect the recent market as follows.

	Exchange Rate (JPY/USD)	Singapore Kerosene (USD/BBL)	Dubai Crude Oil (USD/BBL)
Previous Forecast	112.3	90.5	74.9
New Forecast	110.8	83.9	68.7

Full-year consolidated operating revenue is expected to come to the same amount as the previously announced forecast. However, full-year consolidated operating expenses are expected to be 8 billion yen lower than the previously announced forecast, reflecting the third quarter results and changes in fuel price assumptions, etc. based on recent conditions. As a result, full-year consolidated operating profit is expected to be 8 billion yen higher than previously announced forecast. Full-year consolidated ordinary profit is expected to increase by 5 billion yen, and full-year net profit attributable to owners of the parent is expected to increase by 28 billion yen after additionally recording deferred income tax according to Tax Effect Accounting. As a result, we have revised our earnings forecast for the fiscal year ending March 31, 2019 as shown in the above table.
