Yamatane Corporation Launches Comprehensive English Corporate Website

Yamatane Corporation (Headquarters: Koto-ku, Tokyo; President and Representative Director: Iwao Kawaharada) is pleased to announce the launch of its new English corporate website. This initiative follows the major renewal of the Company's Japanese website in June, aimed at enhancing usability and accessibility for a diverse range of stakeholders.

While Yamatane previously provided limited English information for specific divisions, this launch represents the Company's first fully integrated English platform.

Featuring the same design and interface as the Japanese version, the new site offers a consistent user experience and allows international visitors to easily explore our services and submit inquiries.

Yamatane plans to continuously enhance the site by gradually expanding content related to its core logistics services.
