Notice Regarding Measures Against Pirated Applications

In 2025, ibis inc. took a series of actions aimed at eliminating piracy websites that illegally modify and redistribute our proprietary application software "ibisPaint ®"(the "Application") (Legal representative: Attorney Takashi Hirano, Denyo Law Office). As a result, as of October 2025, download pages for the Applications have been removed from numerous piracy websites, and we believe that many of these sites are now facing significant difficulties in continuing their operations.

As you may be aware, the modification and redistribution of software are strictly prohibited under intellectual property laws, including copyright laws, in many countries. Furthermore, illegally modified or redistributed applications pose serious risks, such as the potential inclusion of computer viruses, making them extremely harmful.

In line with our corporate philosophy—"Our mobile painting app will create communication around the world."—we remain committed to maintaining a healthy development cycle for the Applications and protecting the interests and safety of our users. Accordingly, we will continue to take firm action against piracy websites, their operators, and individuals involved in unauthorized modifications.

Please note that the impact of this matter on our business performance is minimal.

We are unable to respond to individual inquiries regarding this issue. If you have information about suspected piracy websites or other related concerns, please contact us through the following channel.
